FOUR RUSSIAN
DRIVES CLOSE
IN ON DANZIGKEY FORTRESS CITY
ON ODER RIVER
DOOMED

BY RICHARD KASISCHKE
London, Sunday, March 11 (AP)—Russian troops began shelling the great shipping center of Stettin yesterday and drove forward armored spearheads close to the city of Danzig, while the Germans announced that Red army shock forces had captured half of Kuestrin, key Oder river fortress 38 miles east of imperiled Berlin.

In a new invasion of Danzig territory across the Nogat river from East Prussia the Russians drove to within 17 miles of the former free city. Other columns were 12 miles from their goal on the south, within 10 miles on the southwest, and 15 on the west. Soviet planes began attacking the city and port installations.

Quick Cleanup Sought
A late German broadcast said the Russians had captured the northern half, or new city district, of Kuestrin, last big bridgehead held by the Germans on the east bank of the central Oder. Then the Russians fought their way across the Warthe river into the older section of the town on the south side.

"Murderous battles are raging for every single house and every single floor of every house," the enemy broadcast said. The Germans said the Russians were driving for a quick cleanup of the Kuestrin area so that they could shift thousands of troops northward for the developing siege of Stettin, main port for Berlin 67 miles northeast of the Reich capital.

The Soviet high command ignored the flaming battle around Kuestrin, where by German account the Russians also have bridgeheads on the west bank of the Oder above and below Kuestrin, and are threatening to trap the Nazi garrison on the eastern shore.

Baltic Trap Narrowed
But in the north the Russians said their troops had pressed within three miles southeast of Altdamm, Oder river crossing town two miles from Stettin's great ship basins, with the capture of Franzhausen. The village of Klebow, six miles southwest of Altdamm and about the same distance south of Stettin, also was taken.

Gaining this high ground opposite the Pomeranian capital the Russians were reported in front dispatches relayed through Moscow to have begun shelling Stettin itself.

The northern wing of Marshal G. Zhukov's First White Russian Army captured 2,000 more prisoners, the Soviet communique said, and a dispatch said that Red army spearheads had broken into the streets of Altdamm.

The attack toward Stettin was a slow slugging match between hundreds of tanks, but far to the northeast Marshal K. K. Rokossovsky's Second White Russian Army forces were making gigantic strides in narrowing the Baltic trap where thousands of Germans are pinned in the northeastern tip of Pomerania and the adjacent Gdynia-Danzig sectors.

Advancing up to 17 miles in 24 hours these troops overran more than 300 towns and villages and squeezed the Germans into a 1,750-square-mile pocket. The gains were so swift that it was indicated

Boys Won't Come Home
When Hitler Is Beaten

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, March 10 (AP)—Surprised and cheered though they are by the unexpected crossing of the Rhine, American military leaders are approaching the end of the war in Europe with an attitude of apprehension.

For weeks they have been searching for some way to get these truths across to the American people.

There will be relatively few discharges, how many remains to be determined. There will be some furloughs for men enroute from Europe to the Pacific, but here again the number is uncertain.

And for untold hundreds of thousands there will be the swift possible direct transfer from the battlefields of Germany to the island approaches to Japan.

In general, it is planned as far as possible to give actual combat troops a few weeks at home before they go after Japan.

The dread of the military leaders lies in their assumption that a kind of war weariness may set in after the first outburst of joy over victory in Europe. It probably will take half a year to get those millions of men from Europe to the Pacific with adequate arms and supplies. There may be a period of relative quiet—although the commanders will prevent that if they can—in which people may begin to clamor for the return of troops to the United States.

In this would lie Japan's great hope of moderating the effects of defeat, of gaining a compromise.

The enemy in the Pacific and Asia remains in a militarily powerful position. American military leaders have been hammering this home for months. What they have the battlefields of Germany to the had trouble telling is the price which America will have to pay for victory.

Best estimates at the war department are that the Japanese have 5,000,000 men in China. In time the Chinese could muster a very effective force against them, equipped with American arms and given modern training. But the impression here now is that so much time would be required that it would not be the most effective way to fight the Japanese.

Apparently the idea of relying primarily on Chinese manpower has been heavily modified, if not abandoned. That means thousands more of American casualties and more months or years of separation of men from their homes.

London, March 10 (AP)—Five members of a Flying Fortress crew recently missed capture by seconds because an infantryman got there first with a jeep. They crash-landed their flak-torn bomber in the middle of Norman's land northeast of Strasbourg. A jeep came tearing from the American lines and a German military car came racing from the opposite direction but the jeep got there first.

"We had only a faint idea of where we were," said Pilot Lt. Earl D. Greenstreet of Kankakee, Ill., "and as we climbed out of the smashed plane we heard a lot of shouting and looked around.

"In the distance two motor vehicles were racing toward the plane. One came from the west and one from the east. The jeep from the west looked like it was going to take off.

"Get the hell aboard in a hurry," an infantryman yelled at us as the jeep skidded up to us. We lost no time.

"The jeep shot away like a scared rabbit and scattered rifle fire whistled around us. I looked back and saw a load of Germans pull up to the plane. By that time we really were rolling and got back to a first aid station where we waited for the rest of the crew to be rounded up."

Aluminum is not covered by the clampdown. About 25,000,000 pounds are available for civilian use under the spot program and only 15,400,000 pounds have been allotted.

For steel and copper, however, civilian manufacturers who were depending upon spot allotments must depend on such idle and surplus supplies as can be found, or such stocks in warehouses as they are permitted to buy.

Bars And Restaurants Required To Display Ceiling Lists

Washington, March 10 (AP)—Bars and restaurants must post ceiling prices for beer and liquor beginning April 16.

Announcing this today, the OPA said the new regulation will apply to all eating and drinking establishments which serve these beverages on the premises.

Each place will be required to display prominently two official OPA posters. One will list ceilings for beer, ale, porter or stout sold by the bottle or glass. The other will show maximum prices for 14 types of "bar liquors," as follows:

Rye whisky, rye highball, bourbon whisky, bourbon highball, Scotch whisky, Scotch highball, gin, martini, manhattan, old fashioned, white and red wines, and sherry.

Both posters must set forth the number of ounces of the drink or bottle for the ceiling price. In the case of highballs, the posted size will represent the amount of whisky to be used in the drink.

END BELIEVED
NEAR IN FIGHT
FOR IWO JIMAREDUCED JAPANESE
GARRISONS CUT
IN 3 PARTS

BY VERN HAUGLAND
U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Guam, Sunday, March 11 (AP)—Overwhelming American superiority brought "the beginning of the end" on Iwo Saturday afternoon, with advancing marines cutting the sharply reduced Japanese garrisons into three parts for the kill. The enemy's power to resist is crumbling.

The largest portion of the foe is in a half mile square area at Kitano Point, northernmost tip of the island.

A communique today reported that the Fourth Marine Division which had been held back for days on the right flank, made big gains by 4 p. m. yesterday with patrols reaching the beach at Tachibana Point, easternmost point of the eight square mile island. That point is almost due east of Motoyama town but well south of points where the Third Marine Division has spilled out onto the northeast beaches.

Bloodied Of War
It had been Maj. Gen. Clifton B. Cates' Fourth Division which was slowed up for long as Maj. Gen. Graves B. Erskine's Third Division in the center reached the northeast beaches and Maj. Gen. Keller E. Rokey's Fifth Division advanced up the west side.

Today's communique said the Fourth, which is fighting up Iwo's "bulge," made substantial advances all along its left flank sector.

The report of decreasing resistance suggested what staff officers have predicted — that it is the "beginning of the end" of the bloodiest, toughest fight of the Pacific war, now in its 21st day. Although the narrow front on the rocky north tip made pinpoint accuracy essential, warships still shelled the Japanese. Army planes based in Iwo's southern airfield and carried planes of the U. S. Fifth Fleet covered the advances.

Kaltenborn Cited For Radio Award As Commentator
New York, March 10 (AP)—The Alfred I. Dupont radio awards foundation announced tonight that H. V. Kaltenborn, news commentator, and radio stations WJR of Detroit and WTAC of Worcester, Mass., had won its 1944 prizes.

The awards were designed to hold the same place in radio that the Pulitzer prizes hold in journalism.

Each winner will receive $1,000. Two additional radio stations, WDSU of New Orleans and KMA of Shenandoah, Ia., were cited for meritorious service.

The presentation ceremonies were broadcast tonight over the Blue network (10:30-11 p. m. EWT).

Kaltenborn was honored "in recognition of distinguished and meritorious performance of public service by aggressive, consistently excellent and accurate gathering and reporting of news by radio and the presentation of expert, informed and reliable interpretation of news and opinion for the purpose of encouraging initiative, independence and public service."

Jellied Gasoline Bombs Help Spread Flames Over Tokyo
San Francisco, March 10 (AP)—Why flames spread so fast and leaped so high in Tokyo Saturday was made clear today when the Army's chemical warfare service released a limited description of the M-69 incendiary bomb, designed especially for use in Japan.

Col. J. W. Lyon, commanding officer of the chemical warfare procurement district, said the bomb is made up of a 500-pound aimable cluster, which looks much like any ordinary demolition bomb. At about 5,000 feet the cluster opens, releasing individual 6-pound bombs filled with jellied gasoline. Each small bomb spreads burning gasoline for some 300 yards around upon exploding.

It was poor eyesight that kept the 32-year old photographer out of the armed forces.

Now his draft board has sent word that his classification may be raised to 2-A (F), for men individually essential in an industry supporting the war effort.

The board volunteered this comment: "A registrant doing the work xxx this man is doing is deserving of better than a 4-F classification."

London, March 10 (AP)—The German food ministry today prohibited cultivation of tobacco in the Reich, deeming that all land in Baden, the chief tobacco raising province, be devoted to growing potatoes.

Raid Devastates
15 Square Miles
In City Of Tokyo

BY ELMONT WAITE

21st Bomber Command, Guam, Sunday, March 11 (AP)—At a cost of two bombers, more than 300 Superfortresses laid waste to 15 square miles of Tokyo's industrial and waterfront area Saturday in a raid described unofficially by some officers as the most devastating single air blow ever dealt any city in the world.

The raid "left nothing but twisted, tumbled-down rubble in its path," said Maj. Gen. Curtis Le May whose B-29s only recently wiped out 240 city blocks of Tokyo in another devastating attack.

The prepared statement by the 21st Bomber Command leader added that the devastating results were "incontrovertibly established by reconnaissance photographs taken on the afternoon of the strike."

As the full extent of the damage by the more than 300 B-29s, which struck the Japanese capital shortly after midnight Friday (8 a. m. Friday, Eastern War Time), was being assessed, other Superfortresses lashed out from India at the Japanese rail supply line in Malay Saturday.

Le May said the photographs confirmed earlier reports from the returning pilots that the destruction had swept beyond the 10 square mile target area in the heart of the city.

The total of the ruined area was shown at 15 square miles, from which clouds of smoke had covered the returning B-29s with soot.

Fires were still burning at seven points in Tokyo when the photographs were taken Saturday afternoon, hours after the night strike.

Three were blazing at the north end of the rectangle of destruction and four at the south end. On the south one burned on each side of the mouth of Sumida river waterfront and the other two midway between the mouth of the Sumida and Naka rivers.

Some officers claimed unofficially that the raid was the most devastating single blow ever laid by any war upon any city in the world.

The area of destruction, it laid upon Metropolitan New York, would cover all the industrial sections of Brooklyn and Queens and half their residential sections, plus Manhattan from the Battery to Sixtieth street.

CAN'T GIVE UP, GOEBBELS SAYS
People Of Germany Are Summoned To Fight Fanatically

BY JOHN F. CHESTER

London, March 10 (AP)—Nazi Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels, speaking on the eastern front in an hour of rising peril to the Reich, called on German troops and workers today to stand fast, and disclosed that if they did so "our capitulation will never come."

Paraphrasing Prime Minister Churchill's famed speech after Dunkerque, where German armies were tramping in triumph across Europe, Goebbels declared at the West Silesian towns of Lauban and Goerlitz:

"We must fight them in the fields, in the forests, in our cities, at every street corner and in every house until they are bled white and cannot continue the struggle. Then the hour of our triumph will strike."

Summoning the people to fight fanatically, Goebbels asserted that "there is nothing left to do but see it through in the east and west."

"We must not yield an inch of German soil without taking a bloody toll of the enemy," he cried.

"The enemy has left us in no doubt as to what he would do to us, to our women, our children, even our children's children if in this hour of destiny... we failed or lost courage—laid down our arms and abandoned our cause."

Vote On Strike Set By Textile Workers In Boston District
Boston, Mar. 10 (AP)—New England's 50,000 textile workers will meet tomorrow to take a strike vote.

The CIO union, released from their no-strike pledge Feb. 20 by President Emil Rieve, is taking this action in protest over the refusal of former Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson to approve decisions by the War Labor Board granting them a 55 cents an hour minimum wage.

Locals will meet to decide whether to petition the National Labor Relations Board for a strike throughout the cotton and rayon manufacturing industry.

Secretary J. William Belanger of the Massachusetts CIO said if locals vote for a strike then their officers will petition the NLRB, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and the War Labor Board. A strike then can be called within 30 days.

In New Bedford, union officials said members also will take action on the War Manpower Commission "labor draft" for the Fish and Firestone tire cord mills in addition to balloting for a strike vote.

GERMANS TRY TO KNOCK OUT
RIVER BRIDGENEW SUPERHIGHWAY
TO RUHR IS GOAL OF AMERICANS

By Edward Kennedy
Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, Paris, Sunday, March 11, (AP)—American troops gained almost a mile in the Remagen bridgehead east of the Rhine yesterday while collapse of the German west bank bridgehead opposite Wesel and the mop-up of trapped pockets in the Eifel region dealt new blows to the apparently fast-ebbing German defense which may foreshadow an early end of the war in Europe.

The Yanks across the Rhine at Remagen made their advances—deepening and lengthening their already powerful bridgehead—against the desperate opposition of enemy armor and infantry rushed there in a frantic effort to prevent the U. S. First army forces from rolling up the entire German Rhine from the rear.

Enemy Morale Slumps
On the basis of Associated Press front dispatches from Remagen early today, the Americans are punching inland and along the river. The Germans, beset by battered communications and lowered morale, have not yet brought sufficient strength into the bridgehead area to halt the attackers.

A dispatch from the U. S. Ninth army front said that a spearhead regiment of the 35th infantry division had cut off the last remaining escape route from the Wesel pocket late last night and had reached the approaches of a railroad bridge which reportedly was blown up.

From The Netherlands front came reports by reconnaissance pilots of extensive eastward movements of German troops north of the Waal Rhine. This may indicate that in the face of heavy reverses and possible naval attacks on the Dutch coast, the Germans have decided to abandon all of Holland south of the Zuider Zee in order to fall back on the IJssel River and a better defensive position.

Such a withdrawal would mean the abandonment by the enemy of Holland's main cities of Amsterdam, Rotterdam, The Hague and Utrecht.

Block Busters Rip Up Berlin
Dive Bombers Trying To Knock Out Remagen Bridge Routed

London, March 10 (AP)—Berlin reeled under a shower of block-busters tonight in a swift followup of heavy day raids on the Reich and a spectacular air battle that put to flight German dive bombers trying to knock out the Remagen bridge and wreck the Americans' span across the Rhine.

Swift Mosquitos of the RAF bomber command gave Berlin its 19th consecutive raid by night and the German radio reported another formation over western Germany as the Mosquitos started home.

Thunderbolts, dropping below a 2,500-foot cloud ceiling over the bridge, spotted six Messerschmitt 109s carrying heavy bombs and escorted by five Fokke-Wulf 190s flying above Linz in the bridgehead area on a beeline for the vital Rhine span over which the First army was pouring men and equipment.

The Thunderbolts swooped down on the enemy planes despite bursting flak from free-shooting American ground gunners throwing everything they had into the sky to protect the bridge.

In a savage pass, the Thunderbolts shot down one dive bomber, one Fokke-Wulf escort, and then in a swirling battle forced the others to jettison their bombs and scatter.

Two Thunderbolts were lost in the short battle which twisted up to 3,000 feet just under the low clouds.

Cavalry In Hills East Of Manila To Rout Jap Remnants
Manila, Sunday, March 11 (AP)—Yank First Cavalry have driven into Antipolo in the hills 14 miles east of Manila, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced tonight.

Simultaneously the Sixth Division advanced on the southwest of Montalban.

The 158th Regimental Combat team pushed forward to secure the road network between Lake Taal and Batanagas bay southwest of Manila.

MacArthur again ignored radio reports that American forces have landed at Zamboanga, key city on the southwest coast of Mindanao Island.

For the second successive day he reported heavy bombing attacks on Zamboanga. Heavy bombers of Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney's Far Eastern command unloaded 300 tons of bombs to shatter defense points and supply depots. A bridge also was hit.

TAVERN CITED FOR VIOLATION

Charles Johnston Was Open After Curfew Officers Charge

The Chuckle Club, located at Pine Ridge and operated on a license issued to Charles Johnston, Escanaba, will be cited to the Michigan Liquor Control commission for violation of the 12 o'clock curfew. It was the first case of its kind in Delta county.

Investigation made by William Linaker, special investigator for the liquor commission, and a member of the Gladstone Post, Michigan State Police, was made Saturday morning at 12:40 a. m., and Johnston and seven patrons were found inside the darkened club.

Johnston had been found open after 12 o'clock earlier in the week and had been warned, the officers said.

The Chuckle Club's operator has three convictions against him previously for violation of liquor control regulations, according to police records. In June, 1942, he was found open after the deadline with 25 persons in the place for which he received a 30-day suspension of license. In January, 1943, he was arrested for selling intoxicants to minors and another suspension followed. Johnston also operated a drink place at Hyde which ran afoul the law last year and the license was suspended by the commission.

Bark River Scouts Hold Charter Night

At a meeting of Scouters, Cubbers and Den Mothers in Bark River Saturday afternoon, plans were made to hold a charter night and installation of Scout units. Those in attendance were: Ray Raymond, A. E. Anderson, Bert Erickson, Roy Bergman, Henry Boyle, Albert Johnson, Mrs. Dan LesVesque and Mrs. Albert Johnson. The event is scheduled to be held April 5 in the local community hall. The three units of Bark River will be combined in the event: Cub Pack 415, Scout Troop 446, and the Neighborhood Patrol 447, of Sunnyside, will all take part in the celebration. Definite arrangements are being made toward a very inspiring program on Scouting.

Bark River has a Cub Pack of 19 members, a Scout Troop of nine members, and Neighborhood Patrol of seven members. All units are doing well. Leadership is adequate and all committees are operating to the best of the Scouting unit.

'Crucified' Man's Plan Traced To Delta County

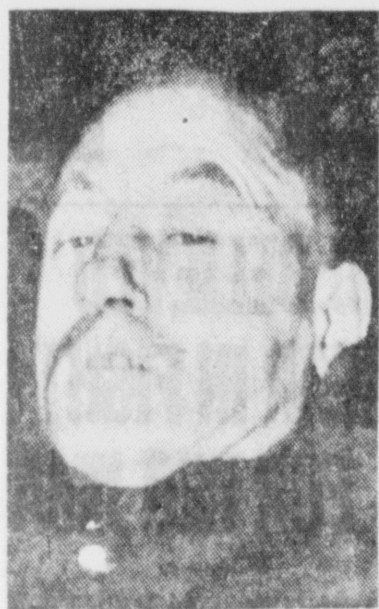

The strange case of Fred Walcher, 46, self-appointed martyr who was found nailed to a cross beneath the "L" in Chicago Thursday, yesterday had its local angle in Delta county.

An Escanaba man yesterday disclosed that in 1940 at a service station at Garden Junction, operated by William Walcher and Jack Gitzen, one of Fred Walcher's elaborate blueprints for an "industrial democracy" was given to him by William Walcher. The Escanaba man, who did not wish to be further identified, said that Walcher brought the blueprint from the basement of the service station building.

Pictures of Fred Walcher published in Chicago newspapers were said by the Escanaba man to resemble the man who gave him the "industrial democracy" blueprint at Garden Junction in 1940. People in the vicinity of Garden Junction recall that William Walcher came there about 1935 and, with Gitzen, built a stone service station on the south side of US-2. In 1940 to '41 Walcher went back to Chicago. It was recalled that he was a mason and stoneworker and built several fireplaces for residents in that area. Gitzen's home was in Lansing.

Fred Walcher, one-time Bund sympathizer who corresponded with rabble rouser Gerald L. K. Smith of the "Committee of One Million," was found nailed to a crude wooden cross beneath the Chicago "L." Nails had been driven through his palms, but his feet were supported with ropes and the weight of his body was supported by a rope around his waist. On his head was a "crown" of rose bush thorns. His left side near the heart had been cut as if with a razor blade.

In a hospital the next day Walcher declared "Hitler has a lot of good points and so does Nazism." He admitted attending Bund

Word has been received by the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Tatrow, that Cpl. and Mrs. Lee Tatrow are the parents of a daughter born Feb. 21st at the hospital in Bismarck, N. D. The baby which weighed six pounds and one ounce, has been named Nancy Lee and is the first in the family. Mrs. Tatrow is making her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Laib in North Dakota as her husband has gone overseas.

Citation

A short time ago it was reported in this column that Capt. Jean R. Truckey, youngest daughter of the late George and Mrs. Truckey had been awarded a Bronze Star Medal. This was for service as set forth in the following:

Truckey, N-730883, Army Nurse Corps, United States, for meritorious serving in connection with military operations against the enemy as Principal Chief Nurse, 6th Evacuation Hospital, Semimobile, from 29 November, 1943 to 27 February, 1944, in England, France, Luxembourg and Belgium. Captain Truckey displayed unusual administrative ability and leadership in supervising the activities of the nursing staff of the hospital. She contributed materially to the successful functioning of the hospital by careful and judicious planning of the work for the nurses under her charge. Entered military service from Michigan.

Bakeries Will Get Extra Ration Points

Bakeries and other industrial users of rationed fats and oils will be given supplementary allotments of ration points to permit them to continue the same rate of use of lard, shortening and salad and cooking oils for the remainder of the first 1945 quarter as they had from January 28 to February 25, or before point values for the items were doubled.

Beginning March 7, 1945, industrial users may apply to their local War Price and Rationing Boards or their OPA district offices with whom they are registered, for supplementary allotments of the items.

When the point values of lard, shortening, salad and cooking oils were increased to four red points per pound from two points and margarine was increased to five points per pound from three points on February 25, the effect of these increases was to have the ability of industrial users to procure these items for use during the remainder of the quarter.

Bob Pfothauer Lauds Work Of Red Cross In Hospitals

Praise for the Red Cross was included in a letter received Friday by Mr. and Mrs. Merle Pfothauer, 512 South Seventeenth street from their son, Pfc. Robert Pfothauer, who informed them that he is now in a hospital in France, following his contraction of malaria.

Pfc. Pfothauer stated in the letter, dated February 22, that he had been hospitalized for about two weeks but that he was "out of danger now."

"The Red Cross is doing a wonderful job," he said, and they keep us supplied with reading material."

Bob has been in service for 16 months and overseas for a year. Mrs. Don Pfothauer received a card yesterday from her husband, Staff Sgt. Pfothauer, the first direct word from him since he was reported missing in action on December 16. Sgt. Pfothauer, now a prisoner of the Germans, said that he was well and requested boxes, and stated "we're treated fine, so don't worry."

The first white man to discover and record Southern California's native palms were Floridians.

ORE LOADING BEGINS MONDAY

Inland Steel Boats To Open Season Here
On April 1

The movement of iron ore from mine pockets to ore trains will begin Monday at the Sherwood mine in Iron River and the Morris mine from North Lake in preparation for the opening of the shipping season at Escanaba, now tentatively set for April 1.

Two Inland Steel company ore carriers, the L. E. Block and the P. D. Block, sister ships that opened the season in Escanaba last spring, are scheduled to arrive at Escanaba on Easter Sunday, April 1, for cargoes of ore to be shipped to Indiana Harbor.

Despite heavier ice in the Escanaba harbor than a year ago, mining and shipping interests are confident that the season will open in Escanaba on April 1 as scheduled, because of the services of the Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw.

The Mackinaw is scheduled to break the ice in Bay de Noc and in the Escanaba harbor during the week of March 26 to open a channel for the ore carriers.

In the meantime, work is being pushed on the repair project on the two Chicago & North Western docks here. About 150 men are employed on the project. It was unofficially reported that work will be concentrated on the No. 6 dock to complete the repairs on that project before April 1 in the event that it appears unlikely that both docks can be put into shape for use on the scheduled opening of navigation here.

They Came Thru

WHILE some time may elapse before definite credit is accorded to that particularly GI Joe who dashed across that Rhine spanning bridge in Germany and made possible the establishment of an Allied bridgehead on the vulnerable west bank of that traditional protector of the heart of Germany, it will likely be found that it was a combination of Yankee ingenuity and just plain intestinal fortitude, that made the feat possible. Just plain, American boys have been accomplishing these feats of heroism ever since this nation entered the war and that some more of these same boys saw the opportunity to further confound a disorganized enemy, by preventing destruction of the bridge, seconds before it was to be demolished, is plausible. It will likely be found that no one ordered them to do the job, that has, unquestionably, shortened the war in Europe. They probably conceived the idea that it would be a good thing to save the bridge and they acted so quickly and with such audacity they were not stopped.

Front line correspondents have been attempting for several days to single out the individual whose name may be indelibly written among those of the undying heroes of this nation. It may prove to have been a team of American boys who performed this gloriously daring feat, expecting to die just as other American boys have tried and died, but who live today to perpetuate American tradition.

It may be just as well if we never learn, definitely, the identity of this most recent hero. It's easier to think of him as an American tradition, than as an individual.

Electric Home Heating

WHILE Escanaba and other American communities are looking to central steam heating to eliminate soot, dust, ashes and other individual furnace nuisances in the future, the Pacific Northwest is going them one better. After the war is over, it is planned to heat thousands of homes in that region with the surplus electricity from the Bonneville power dam project.

Pacific Northwest homeowners are promised a heating service that will suit every temperament, for it would be possible to vary the temperature in every room by the thermostat on the electric heater.

Electric heating of homes is not entirely a new idea, however. There are more than 1,000 homes served in this manner in the TVA area. In fact, it was tried out in Tacoma, Wash., as far back as 1914, but the experiment was not so successful because of the poor equipment available in those days. Just before the war, about thirty all-electric homes were built in Portland, Ore., which are being heated at an average cost of $75.74 annually.

There are great developments in store for us after the war. If the present trend continues, living will abound with so many comforts and labor saving devices, that we are likely to become a nation of softies unless we use some of the leisure time in muscle-building outdoor exercise.

Jobs for Veterans

THE United States will emerge from this war with the greatest aircraft manufacturing facilities and the largest body of trained aircraft personnel in the history of flying. The Army and Navy Air Forces have taught 3,000,000 men to operate and service airplanes, to conduct airways communications and operate airports.

Many of these 3,000,000 will certainly want to find peacetime jobs that will let them make use of their specialized knowledge. Certainly, too, the fruits of that specialized knowledge are too valuable to be wasted. But where are the jobs to be found?

It is most unlikely that they can all be developed in this country. There is no reason, however, why they should. American airplanes will likely be sold all over the world. So why should there not be opportunities for our air-trained and air-minded veterans in many of these foreign markets? They have gained an intimate knowledge of American aviation products and technique in a rugged, thorough school.

These men could play an important part in opening new commercial frontiers, and in stimulating the international trade which is essential to international prosperity and peace. The assurance of American service for American planes could hardly fail to make our aircraft more desirable to foreign buyers, especially in the immediate postwar years.

There is assurance that the government will assist business in this expanding field of foreign trade as it has in others. The State Department is planning to add civil air attaches to its various diplomatic staffs.

But it seems to us that the aviation industry, for its own good, should assume responsibility for developing foreign job opportunities for aviation veterans. Industry, not government, should inform the veterans of these opportunities, encourage them to take them and, if necessary, give them further training.

Such a program would not be a guarantee of 3,000,000 jobs. But it seems likely that it would be another safeguard against a complete and catastrophic collapse of our war-expanded aviation industry, besides giving congenial and richly deserved jobs to many of the men who won victory in the air.

We Must Be Fair

WHENEVER we hear news of atrocities committed by Japanese soldiers, our blood boils to a higher temperature than when we are told about similar crimes perpetrated by the Nazis.

The reason for this is that years of hate and prejudice have caused us to accumulate a greater dislike for the Japs. Nevertheless, we should not blame loyal American-born Japanese people in this country for the inhuman acts of other members of their race.

It is possible to understand how anyone, or indeed, any community, can hate the Japanese. The Nipponese nation has preached and practiced treachery, brutality, torture, in the cause of aggression. This we are fighting. But unless we are prepared to condemn to death all members of the Japanese race because they are members of that race, we cannot justify a war on the lines of race. To do so, puts us shoulder to shoulder with the Nazis and Japanese war lords.

Recently, the town of Hood River, Ore., removed from its roll of honor the names of 16 Nisei, or loyal Japanese-Americans, who were fighting with our armed forces. Their names were not removed for any act of disloyalty, but because their ancestors were Japanese.

Our war to stamp out Japanese militarism does not mean that we should also deny these Americans their constitutional right to liberty and the pursuit of happiness. We must banish wartime hysteria and take a sober view of such matters.

CROONERS ESSENTIAL?

(Detroit Free Press)

A Jersey city draft board has rejected Frank Sinatra, the swifter crooner, for service as essential.

Essential for what?

What has the emotional excitement of girl-children budding into womanhood got to do with the progress of the war?

Sinatra is only a symbol of the vast unreality with which this Nation has approached the problems of the world's most hideous struggle.

"Selling" the war to the American people—as though they were all morons—by the use of fan dancers, night club canaries, movie cuties with chorus-girl figures and custard-pie faces, bear-oiled wise-crackers of the radio, circus clowns and comics in general has done much to blind the average citizen to the stark brutalities of that which we face.

And not the least among these comedians and ham actors have been our politicians. Pampered athletes who can run a hundred yards in 10 seconds and carry a ton of man-meat on their backs down a football field, or hit a baseball into the next county, have not helped clear the atmosphere by the dispensations granted them.

No wonder Joe Doakes, working in the factory, who can't hit a baseball, make an end-run, sing falsetto or do an adagio dance, fails to take seriously the world's Misere. That song of agony pouring forth from the human soul is denied his ears by the honky-tonk motif on which Washington has seen fit to base the conflict.

It may help to explain these strikes.

MATTER OF SHIPS

(Bay City Times)

It is good to know that the increase of the Italian's bread ration from 200 to 300 grams a day, ordered many weeks ago by President Roosevelt, has at last become effective. It is less pleasant to realize that the basic problem of caring for underfed Europeans cannot be settled till the war is over.

Houston: In a newspaper from Brisbane I notice that Australians figure weight by "stones." Please explain.—Mrs. J. H. M.

Little Creek: Please explain and pronounce the word entree.—Y2c B. S.

Answer: In U. S. usage it's a rather vague term used to describe any secondary dish in a meal, for instance, a fish served between the soup and the main meat course. The customary American pronunciation is: AHN-tray.

Oakland: Please give the origin and meaning of the symbol "Rx", as used on doctors' prescriptions.—R. B.

Answer: It stands for recipe, a Latin word meaning, "take thou."

Wichita Falls: Someone has stated that my husband is "uxorious." Is that bad?—Reader.

Answer: Uxor is Latin for "wife." Uxorious (pronounced: uks-OH-ri-uss) has the general meaning "of or pertaining to a wife; a slave to a wife." Incidentally, one who kills his wife is an uxoricide, pronounced: uks-AHR-i-side.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Rome—This war is like a huge tapestry, with so much going on in the foreground and all of it so highly colored and exciting, that extraordinary happenings in the background are overlooked. During my brief stay in Belgrade, I heard the story of one such background adventure from one of the participants.

Sergeant Carl W. Mitchell, now attached to the American military mission in Yugoslavia, was one of about 300 American enlisted men and officers who, in January, 1944, along with British commandos, joined a band of Tito's Partisans on the Island

Vis off the Dalmatian coast. Mitchell and the other Americans had been chosen from every branch of the armed services because they spoke one or another of the Slavic tongues. Thanks to his mother and grandparents, Mitchell speaks both Croatian and Serbian.

When the group landed on Vis, it was the only lifeline between that part of Italy held by the Allies and enemy-held Dalmatia. The assignment of the mixed force was to harass enemy communications and create the utmost destruction and confusion by repeated commando raids on the coast.

—NEVER A DULL MOMENT—

The first night, the whole camp was at a movie when the Germans, who had been tipped off by an agent on the island, staged an air raid. Fortunately, there were almost no casualties. From that moment on, there was never a dull moment.

The group made a landing on the Dalmatian coast, using commando infiltration tactics, and stayed for three days near the town of Split. Immediately afterward, Mitchell, an American officer and a group of Partisans hid for six days in a cave on an island not far from Split. The German knew they were somewhere on the island and a patrol would have taken them if it had not been for a warning given by a local boy.

It was like that time after time, with the Peasants never failing in courage and friendship. When Sergeant Mitchell speaks about them, there's a warm light in his eyes.

"Oh, they know how to live, those people," he says. "You know, they sing and they dance and they drink and they like to be free. And they couldn't have been better to us. I mean that. They couldn't have been better."

Of all the acts of sudden courage and heroism that became commonplace, during the operations, Mitchell reserves his greatest admiration for that of Corporal George Kalitsis of New York, a Greek-American who was born in Athens. Kalitsis, who wanted to go and fight for the liberation of Greece, never got a chance.

"He talked about it a lot," Mitchell says. "He really felt it, too. But on our very first mission, we ran into a German ambush. They had us bad, and then Kalitsis stepped up to see a German mortar position. Well, he saw it, all right. They got him right in the head. But what it did was to give the Germans away and, if that hadn't happened, we would all have been killed, and that's true."

They took the body of Corporal Kalitsis back to the island of Vis. He was the first American to fall on Yugoslav soil. Sergeant Mitchell says the whole island gave him a funeral—the biggest funeral Mitchell ever saw.

—LEARNED PARTISAN SONGS— Mitchell tells how the Americans learned to sing partisan songs around the campfire. And then, one night, the Partisans surprised them. Without any help, they had learned "Stars and Stripes Forever" and "Tipperary." They had spent months learning those two songs.

"They're wonderful fighters," Sergeant Mitchell says. "You never saw any fighters like them. They'd do everything they could to protect us. They'd give a hundred lives for one American life."

Finally, the job on the Dalmatian coast was completed and it was time to leave the base of Vis. The entire population came to see the group off.

"We all bawled like a bunch of babies," says Sergeant Mitchell. "They bawled and we bawled and—well, you never saw any people like that."

Most of the group went off to fight in Greece with the Greek guerrilla bands in the mountains. That was something, too, but you can tell from the way Mitchell talks that, for him, nothing will ever equal that period of wild life on the Dalmatian coast.

This is the story of a boy who comes from South Honore street in Chicago. He tells it without any trimmings at all, but you know he understood the full meaning of what he saw. He and those who came out of the assignment with him will never forget the quality of life among the Peasants of Dalmatia. I would guess that the Dalmatians also learned a lot about America and Americans.

Louis Adams once wrote a book urging that Americans of foreign descent be sent back to their respective homelands as a way to bring about real understanding maybe he was right. Maybe the response of young Americans like Sergeant Mitchell proves something. I have a feeling that it will last longer than anything politicians may do.

Answer: The dictionaries prefer: VODE-vill. Most vaudevillians, however, say: VAW-dub-vill. The French pronunciation is: vode-VEEL.

Hollywood: A headline reads: "Freezing Rain Grips Half of Nation." Is "Nation" used correctly?—C. F.

Answer: "Country" is a more logical word. However, Merriam-Webster's sanctions nation in the meaning of "country."

Always the First Harbinger of Spring

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

RUSSIAN WOMEN — The Soviet Union on Thursday, March 8, observed international women's day by paying tribute to the Russian women for their tremendous contribution to the war effort. It is doubtful if anywhere in the world have women played a greater part in the war than they have in the land of the Red Star, writes Eddy Gilmore, Associated Press correspondent in Moscow.

Duntham — They drive tanks in the thickest fighting. They fly bombers over the toughest targets. They load bombs on icy airfields, and build and repair planes. They load by hand thousands of tons of cargo. They man machine guns on the front. They fire anti-aircraft and even ride horses in cavalry units.

On the same day the Russians were paying tribute to their women, a similar tribute was being given in Escanaba by Ensign Stanley St. Louis, recently returned on a leave home after 21 months in service with the Merchant Marine. His ship was engaged in hauling munitions and other materials to Mediterranean ports, and he participated in the Anzio beachhead invasion.

In the Mediterranean he saw two Russian cargo ships which were manned completely by women. The officers were women, the crew members were women. There was not a man aboard. Ensign St. Louis also had an opportunity to talk with German prisoners, and they also paid tribute to Russian women snipers, but it was admiration mixed with fear. For they said that if one of those women snipers got her sights on you, you were "kaput"—finished.

NEWS HIGHLIGHTS — News of home is more than welcome to the men in service. One way to keep the boys informed about local goings on is to send them the news highlights from the Daily Press front page. Mrs. Leonard Baillargeon of Escanaba does this. She clips the highlights and sends them to her husband, who is in the Navy. After reading the local news in capsule, he sends them on to Ensign Stanley St. Louis.

WANT TO RETURN — While in New York City Ensign St. Louis met Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Olson on the Staten Island ferry. They had known each other in Escanaba, when Mr. Olson was employed here by Merritt Chapman-Scott company while the Olsons were being built. Now in New York, Mr. Olson is directing the company's workmen in cleaning up the Normandy project. You recall the company rejected the liner after it burned and turned over at the dock.

What will interest Escanaba people in the meeting (Chamber of Commerce please note) was that Mr. and Mrs. Olson want to return to Escanaba to make their home when he retires. They told Ensign St. Louis that they had enjoyed Escanaba more than any locality they had ever lived before.

COMING HOME—Capt. Charles Leasum, Sturgeon Bay physician, who was a prisoner of the Japanese since the fall of Bataan, is coming home. He and his wife, who arrived in San Francisco the other day amid such a demonstration as that city has seldom seen.

In Escanaba Mr. and Mrs. Anton Jessen of 219 Ogden avenue will receive the news of his arrival in this country with elation, for they are friends of the captain and his family. Shortly after Capt. Leasum was freed from the prison camp at Cabanatuan by a daring raid of Gen. MacArthur's Rangers, the Jessens received a letter from him in which he said he

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago—1935

Manistique—Among the local foresters and their wives attending the Forest Service dinner dance at the Dells, Escanaba, Saturday evening, were Lieut. and Mrs. Burns, Lieut. and Mrs. Cohen, Dr. and Mrs. Cougar, Mr. and Mrs. Al Morley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rodeski, Edward DeGraaf, Mr. and Mrs. Dill, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barry and Mr. Burn.

Elaine Stierna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Stierna, entertained a group of friends at her home at a party arranged in honor of her tenth birthday anniversary. Guests at her party were Marjorie Peterson, June and Ruth Gossell, Marion Hanson, Mary Ann Schwartz, Mary Ann Vomashek, Eileen Rubens, Helen Turner, Shirley and Jean Baker, Margaret Lindstrom, Dorothy Jensen, Dolores Roberts and Lyle Stierna. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tushack, 617 South Eighteenth street, are the parents of a daughter, born Sunday at St. Francis hospital.

20 Years Ago—1925

Miss Betty Mather of this city has been elected president of the Forum, a newly organized debating club at the Northern State Normal school at Marquette. Miss Mather will complete her course at the N.S.N. this year. Miss Veronica Larson, also of Escanaba, has been chosen secretary of the club.

Gladstone—With appointment of committees, who are already working out plans, arrangements for the Gladstone high school 1925 junior prom, the most important social event of the school year, are going ahead rapidly. The annual hop will be on April 24, instead of the date first announced, April 17. Miss Anita Rosenblum, who is president of the junior class, will be general chairman of the prom. Chairmen of the various committees are Mildred Cole, music; Robert Noreus, decorations; Charlotte Marble, refreshments; Ray Kegel, programs; and Marion Hite, invitations.

looked forward to his return home.

Capt. Leasum entered the Army Medical Corps shortly before Pearl Harbor.

NOT SO BAD—Germfask is famous for other things than conscientious objectors camp. The CO's, except the malcontents, have been working at Seney Waterfowl Refuge.

This refuge, one of the largest in the country, is a 90,000-acre sanctuary and breeding grounds for waterfowl. It contains about 12,000 acres of ponds flanked by marsh habitat, raises from 8,000 to 10,000 ducks annually and is host to 20,000 more at the opening of the shooting season. It has also produced 1,500 wild geese from a foundation stock of a few captive birds.

Information on the Seney Waterfowl Refuge was given to Michigan Outdoor Writers by C. S. Johnson at their recent conference at Blaney Park, which is near the refuge. Johnson is manager of the refuge.

One thing the wildfowl refuge has disproved is the charge that great northern or grass pike, often dubbed "the wolf of the waters," destroys many ducks. Johnson told the outdoor writers that of 294 pike with a minimum length of 14 inches caught in the refuge ponds, only two, or seven-tenths of one per cent, had a trace of ducklings in their stomachs. The ponds represent some of the best pike fishing in the state. Fishing is done from the banks of the dykes, and even a cane pole will do the trick. Since 1941 a total of 3,262 fishermen have taken 4,886 legal pike with an average length of 22 inches.

Manager Johnson also reported to the outdoor writers that muskrats are bothersome because of their fondness for knowing holes in the dykes, and their numbers are controlled. Trappers took out 4,000 last fall on a share basis.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

(Lt. Col. R. S. Allen now on active service)

Washington—German prisoners of war get such excellent treatment in American hands that the Russian government has now actually asked that its civilians inside Germany be treated as prisoners after they are liberated by the Allies.

There are about 4,000,000 Soviet civilians held as forced laborers inside Germany, and their status has been the subject of a significant controversy.

When U. S. and British armies first began liberating these work-slaves they were held as prisoners of war, but soon a deluge of complaints came from Red army officers that the Russian civilians were being insulted.

Whereupon, the Allies segregated Russian war battalions and put them into refugee camps where they were given rations similar to that of the civilian population.

However, civilian rations are so meager in France and Belgium that the Russians have now reversed themselves and want all Russians captured or liberated by the Allies to be treated as prisoners of war. This means that they will get the same food as German prisoners who get the same ration as the American or British armies.

The whole question of handling displaced people, including slave laborers, refugees, and war prisoners, is one of the major Allied headaches. Some 10,000,000 people are involved.

NOTE: The French, who also complained when the Allies treated their repatriated citizens as war prisoners, have now changed their mind, are pressing the U. S. and Great Britain to treat all non-collaborationist Frenchmen freed in Germany as prisoners so they will get Allied rations.

—BELIEVE IT OR NOT—

The Office of Defense Transportation, the Army, Navy and the Office of War Mobilization have a joint board which passes on all requests to hold conventions. Last week, believe it or not, the ODT spent the time of important government officials approving the right of the state department to hold the United Nations conference in San Francisco.

—RUSSIAN VODKA—

War Mobilizer Jimmie Byrnes has been regaling friends with stories of his mission to Yalta. Byrnes said he sampled Russian Vodka for the first time, found that it "speaks a strong language and has lots of authority."

This recalled to Byrnes' friends the first time the late Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, came to visit former Ambassador Litvinov at the Soviet embassy. Litvinov proposed a toast to the United States. Knox was a little reluctant to down the potent Vodka, tried to sip it. Litvinov stopped him and said: "Drink the stuff down in a hurry and you will kill the awful taste."

—GARAND RIFLE ON TOP—

If you ask Lt. Gen. George Patton, famous for his tank attacks, what weapon he considered the most important in the entire war, you would naturally expect the answer to be "tanks."

Patton used tanks to make his meteoric charge across France, and he used them when he went to the rescue of hard-pressed forces in the Belgium budge.

But the other day Maj. Gen. Levin Campbell, efficient chief of ordnance, asked Patton that question while on a tour of the war fronts, and got a surprising answer. Patton didn't think the tank was the most important weapon of the war, but rather the Garand rifle. After considering the matter carefully, Patton replied to General Campbell as follows: "In my opinion, the M-1 rifle (Garand) is the greatest battle implement ever devised."

"However," Patton continued, "my admiration for ordnance products does not stop with the M-1 rifle. Our machine guns, mortars, artillery and tanks are without equal on the battlefields of the world."

—STALIN-DE GAULLE AGREEMENT— It hasn't been published, but a significant secret clause was incorporated in the agreements signed between Stalin and De Gaulle in Moscow last fall. Strangely enough it parallels another Russo-Franco pact signed in 1913 when the Czar, not Stalin ruled Russia. And although Stalin has now overthrown the Czar, he has signed the same thing.

The secret clause approves a free hand for France in the west, and a free hand for Russia in the east. Also, it pledges Russia to help develop a strong independent Poland, friendly to both France and the Soviet Union.

But the amazing fact about the secret clause is that the wording is identical with a pact signed by the French ambassador to the Czar's government in 1913.

A member of De Gaulle's entourage thought the wording was so strikingly similar to something he had seen before that he asked Foreign Minister Molotov where the Russians got the wording. Molotov investigated, explained that when the Bolshevik government had cleaned out the old Czarist foreign office after the revolution, they found a copy of the old Franco-Russian pact with the same clause in it. They had preserved it ever since as a model of basic Russian foreign policy.

Special Forms Needed to Defer Men Under Age 30

Draft registrants under the age of 30 must have special occupational deferment forms, approved by the federal agency having jurisdiction, on file with their local draft board by April 1 to be considered for deferment from military service. It was announced yesterday by the Delta county selective service office.

The requests for occupational deferment for registrants under 30 must be filed on a special form, somewhat different than the conventional Form 42 used in the past, the local board reported. A limited number of the special forms are obtainable at the local office.

The filing of the special forms is somewhat complicated in view of the requirement that approval for deferment must first be granted by the federal war agency having jurisdiction over the registrant's employment. In many instances, the War Production board presumably will be the certification agency for registrants engaged in war production in this area.

Old Orchard Farm

Manager Finds Nature Usually Has Own Way

Old Orchard farm, the Daily Press experimental farm out in Flat Rock, got off to a bad start in both its spring pig and lambing seasons, last week. All of which goes to prove that even the best laid plans of human hands often go wrong when the infallible power of nature asserts itself. A big brood sow, that was not expected to farrow her pigs for two or three days, gave birth to nine little pigs in the near zero temperature of Thursday night and five of the little fellows were dead when they were discovered on Friday morning. A young ewe mother prematurely dropped her lamb, probably due to some injury, on Thursday. So Old Orchard's manager is not bragging much this week about the efficacy of his proven plans for successful spring pig and lambing programs.

No One to Blame

All of the expectant sow mothers have been in their littering pens for ten days, with the electrically heated hovers, for the accommodation of the little pigs, ready to be turned on when they arrived. Walter Nelson thought that a big grade sow acted suspiciously on Thursday and made a special trip to the hog-house just before he retired on Thursday night. Everything then was calm and serene, but when he again went to the barn on Friday morning five of the new born pigs were dead and the remaining four were badly chilled.

No one can be blamed for this tragedy. It must be recognized as just another of those things that are bound to happen on any farm and only serves to emphasize the real gamble that surrounds farming in general. All the farm manager and the farm crew can do is to be on the job as constantly as possible during the coming critical days and hope for milder weather conditions.

Neither could anything be done to prevent the premature birth of Old Orchard's first lamb of the season. These ewes are all two year olds and will have their first lambs this spring. In spite of patient efforts to "gentle" the flock for the lambing season, most of the young ewes are wild and suspicious of human beings. The one that lost her lamb probably became jammed in the door of the sheep shed, in trying to make a quick exit or entrance at feeding time. Anyway that's one lamb marked off the list and better luck is all that can be hoped for from the rest of the flock.

Anna-belle Saves Day

Old Orchard's manager has about made up his mind that he must expect a shorter heavy lactation period from his Milking Shorthorn cows than with the Jerseys and Guernseys, with which the farm was formerly stocked.

A big brindle cow, now seven years old that freshened last July, several weeks she was brought to Old Orchard last fall, is due to freshen again in April and last week she just quit giving milk. She is rolling in fat and heavy with calf, in spite of the fact she has had very little grain for several weeks. According to the weight tape she now tips the scales at 1780 pounds. And she is not an unusual specimen of her breed.

Two, two year old heifers that freshened last fall, one in August and one in October, are still good heavy milkers, one weighs 1160 and the other 1140. Three solid red heifers that will be two years old this spring and were bred to freshen in early summer, each now tips the scales at better than 1000 pounds. A registered bull of the same breed who was one year

WILSON NUN IS LIBERATED

Sister Rose Jude Had
Been Interned
In Manila

Sister Rose Jude of the Maryknoll Order, Maryknoll, N. Y., who has been interned in Manila since the Japanese occupation of the islands in December, 1941, was rescued from Los Banos camp south of Manila according to a message received Thursday by her mother, Mrs. Frank Sharon of Wilson. The young nun is a sister of Mrs. George Garbell of 802 Stephenson avenue, Menominee.

The message read: "Official report received announces the rescue by our forces of your daughter, Sister Rose Jude (Rose Sharon) formerly interned at Los Banos. Physical condition good."

The rescue of Sister Rose Jude completes the liberation of the three Menominee county persons who have been interned by the old on Jan. 10, of this year, is taped to weigh 867 pounds. With one cow dry and only two Milking Shorthorns now in production Old Orchard's manager feels it to be most fortunate that Anna-belle, a fine Jersey cow, was left in the herd last fall, when a stock dispersal sale was held. She is saving the day for the milk line at a time when skimmed milk is badly needed for calves and pigs.

Ring, the farm dog, should be getting tired of this long winter season, but he isn't. When zero nights and more snow returned to this section last week, he welcomed the change, because a snow crust easily bears his weight and he can dash to any corner of the farm without regard for fences, and only his desires mark the limits of his domain.

Japanese in Manila since the start of the war. First to be rescued was George Robert Law, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Law of 713 Quimby avenue, and the second to be heard from was Joseph Reiter, retired chief petty officer in the Navy, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reiter of this city and a brother of Mrs. Fred Beland of 304 Somerville avenue.

Sister Rose Jude, 29, was born at Wilson, attended the Wilson schools and entered the Maryknoll convent, Maryknoll, N. Y., in 1935. She was assigned to the Philippines as a missionary in 1939 and had been there since. Sister Rose Jude was first interned at Santo Tomas and the last message her family received from her was from that camp in December, 1943.

Combat Fliers Take It Easy After Missions

In the Marianas Islands (Delayed)—"Sack time" is one of the most used expressions in the B-29 outfit. It means simply lying on your cot doing nothing.

Combat fliers everywhere have lots of spare time because they are under a terrific nervous strain when they work, and they need much recuperative rest.

But out here there is a double incentive for spending practically all your time, both waking and sleeping, in "the sack". These reasons are:

1. A 14-hour mission is an exhausting thing. The boys say the reaction is a delayed one, and they really don't feel it so keenly until the afternoon of the next day. Then they're just plumb worn out. It takes some of them two or three days to get to feeling normal after a mission.

2. The climate, warm and enervating, seems to make you sleepy all the time. I've found it doubly hard to write my columns out here, because I just can't stay awake.

3. There's really nothing else to do except lie on your cot. Combat crews have few duties between missions. And since there's no amusement or diversion out on these islands, except homemade ones, they just lie and talk and lie some more.

The result of it all is that you just get lazier than sin. As one pilot said, "I've got so lazy I'll never be worth a damn the rest of my life."

"Pineapple Crazy"

It's one of the phases of isolation. It's what leads to "Island neurosis," or to going "pineapple crazy." Troop commanders know the importance of keeping their men busy to overcome this, but it's difficult to do that with combat crews.

But new classes have been organized, and the fliers have to go to school part of each day. Those who are especially good are getting further intensive training as "lead crews" and they go to school from morning till night.

Endless talk and arguments go on in every tent and Quonset hut.

44th Division Gets Citation; Leonard Mackie Is Member

Pfc. Leonard Mackie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Mackie, is a member of the 44th Infantry in France which has been cited for gallantry. A copy of the citation has been received here by a sister, Mrs. William Artley Jr., of Kipling.

It follows:

"Since the night of 31 December 1944 the 44th Infantry division has achieved new successes. Receiving the initial impetus of the main enemy attack on the evening of January 2, you maintained the integrity of your defense in the face of determined and repeated attacks by the German 17th SS Panzer Grenadier division, supported by strong elements of two infantry divisions. The stubborn resistance of your infantry elements, supported by artillery action, the devastating power and accuracy of which was unsurpassed, is outstanding. You repulsed, with exceedingly heavy losses to the enemy, several strong attacks on January 1, and numerous other attacks and continuous aggressive action since that date. The collective gallantry and superb fighting qualities of the 44th division compelled the enemy to shift his main forces to another sector. I congratulate every member of the division and its supporting units for these courageous and successful actions."

The commendation was signed by Jacob L. Dever, Lt. Gen., U. S. Army.

To his men and officers William F. Dean, commanding general of the 44th division, sent the commendation with the following note: "It is with the greatest pride and deepest humility that I express appreciation to you officers and men of the 44th division, who, by your individual and collective gallantry, are responsible for the achievement that resulted in this citation."

44th Division Gets Citation; Leonard Mackie Is Member

Pfc. Leonard Mackie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Mackie, is a member of the 44th Infantry in France which has been cited for gallantry. A copy of the citation has been received here by a sister, Mrs. William Artley Jr., of Kipling.

It follows:

"Since the night of 31 December 1944 the 44th Infantry division has achieved new successes. Receiving the initial impetus of the main enemy attack on the evening of January 2, you maintained the integrity of your defense in the face of determined and repeated attacks by the German 17th SS Panzer Grenadier division, supported by strong elements of two infantry divisions. The stubborn resistance of your infantry elements, supported by artillery action, the devastating power and accuracy of which was unsurpassed, is outstanding. You repulsed, with exceedingly heavy losses to the enemy, several strong attacks on January 1, and numerous other attacks and continuous aggressive action since that date. The collective gallantry and superb fighting qualities of the 44th division compelled the enemy to shift his main forces to another sector. I congratulate every member of the division and its supporting units for these courageous and successful actions."

The commendation was signed by Jacob L. Dever, Lt. Gen., U. S. Army.

To his men and officers William F. Dean, commanding general of the 44th division, sent the commendation with the following note: "It is with the greatest pride and deepest humility that I express appreciation to you officers and men of the 44th division, who, by your individual and collective gallantry, are responsible for the achievement that resulted in this citation."

City Election May Be Lively Affair

The Non Partisan spring election to be held on April 2, up to Thursday afternoon looked like it would be a quiet affair but with petitions taken out by Lowell on Thursday afternoon and Everett Lezotte Saturday morning it turns the coming election into what may be a lively contest. Up to Saturday afternoon these were the only two men who have so far taken out petitions for the office of mayor, legally called commissioner of peace, health, and safety.

In the race for supervisors, from which there will be three elected from the city, so far there have been only three petitions taken out by them: William Duffett, who is again seeking reelection, Arthur Mc Allister who is seeking the supervisor post after having been off the board of supervisors for one term, and Gunnar Bjork who is running into local politics, who is seeking to be elected to the board for the first time.

Off The Chest ...

BY JAY ARRELL

An interesting sidelight was revealed to us this week in our quest for information concerning the late Mrs. Theresa Bauer. We have been wondering ever since her son, Adam Heinz, told us about it, what the reactions were to that beloved matron that night, fifty or more years ago, when she, her husband and three small children—the youngest six months old—sought shelter at Hunts Spur at the conclusion of their long trip from their native Germany.

Neither she nor her husband, at that time, knew the meaning of a half dozen words of English and only a few days before they arrived, they had never heard of such a place as Michigan. They had migrated from Germany with the intention of locating in a German settlement in Canada, but a fellow countryman, whom they met along the way, prevailed upon them to go to Michigan where, so he told them, there was lots of work and an opportunity to get ahead.

Fancy how one of us would feel arriving at nightfall in a wilderness in a foreign country—Siberia, for instance—without a return ticket.

One can well believe that these newcomers were bewildered, uneasy and very, very homesick.

But that very night the father landed a job and the next morning, bright and early, went to work.

No doubt, as days and months progressed into years, Mrs. Bauer would, many times each day, look out of the window of her crude cabin, regard her lonely surroundings and think fondly of the fair countryside in which she was born.

But as the years progressed, conditions improved. Gradually she found herself feeling more and more at home. New friends, acquisition of a new language and the thrill of seeing her children developing into substantial American citizens, brought joy to her heart. The old world scene became dimmer and dimmer.

What a blessing it is that Mrs. Bauer and her family chose America, and this part of it in particular, as their home.

Saturday will be March 17 and March 17, of course, suggests things Irish. And all of "us Irish"—including the Olsens, the Ginsbergs, the Schmidts and the Kar-pinskis—will bedeck our coat lapels with bits of greenery, shamrock, clay pipes, harps or pigs in honor of the occasion.

It is, especially where Irish people are found in large numbers, a very pleasant holiday.

But we, who are fast assuming the status of an old timer, cannot help but note that St. Patrick's days are not what they used to be. It takes one who was born on the "Old Sod" to venerate in true spirit the day and what it stands for.

Young folks of today who have never met and conversed with native born Irish people have missed a wonderful experience. No manner of speech was ever quite as biting and genteel as the brogue of the men and women born in the Counties Clare, Mayo or Kerry. No eyes ever twinkled more merrily than those hidden behind the dark and bushy brows of these people. No man or woman ever lived who was more quick to accept the summons to fun and frolic and yet no one more readily then they accepted the challenge of the serious things of life.

It took these people, who knew and loved their native land and held in the deepest of reverence their patron saint, to put real meaning and spirit into the observance of St. Patrick's day.

Snow piles are still deep and the old grandmother up in the sky still persists in picking her geese with a frequency that is at times exasperating. Nevertheless we hopefully watch for signs of spring. Saturday morning we saw two birds perched high up on an elm tree across the street. Our pulse quickened at the thought that they might be robins. Closer inspection and consultation with our Audubon book however, proved that they were starlings.

Spring, therefore, is just as far away as ever, because these pests

Them Were The Days—

When people used wash boards, carried their own water and got around with horses and buggies.

But who wants to go back to those days when people did their dry cleaning with a rag and a brush?

No, we prefer today when, by turning a switch, everything is set in motion—when a car can cover the same distance in a day that it took a horse and buggy in a month.

By application of modern science, dry cleaning of exquisite beauty is turned out with results not considered possible in the good old days.

If you want that kind of cleaning, especially for the coming holidays, be sure and take your garments to the

ESKYMOS DROP 32-27 DECISION

Mountaineers Cop 16th Victory Of Year In 17 Games

Escanaba's defense of its upper peninsula Class B basketball championship collapsed before the power of the Iron Mountain team at the Iron Mountain high school gymnasium last night, the Mountaineers winning the Class B district championship from the Eskymos, 32 to 27. The victory was the third this season for Iron Mountain over the Eskymos and was the 16th in 17 games for the Mountaineers this season.

The game was a hard fought, well played battle from start to finish, with both teams showing neat ball handling. Both teams, however, were off on the shooting, missing a larger percentage of shots than normally.

Eskymos Rally
Escanaba lost two men on fouls, Jack Finn and Ohman, both fouling out mid-way in the fourth quarter. The Eskymos held Bob Constantini, lanky Iron Mountain center, to four field goals but the Mountaineer ace clumped five free throws with his field goals to score 13 points and take high point honors for the night.

Iron Mountain took a 6 to 4 lead in the opening quarter and clung tenaciously to a slight advantage throughout as a result of a second period spurge that netted 12 points while Escanaba added only seven.

Trailing 26-17 at the end of the third frame, the Eskymos made a valiant rally in the fourth period in which they outscored the Mountaineers, but they could not overcome the gap.

RULES REVISED IN CONFERENCE

Pro Athletes Barred On Big Ten Teams Of Future

Chicago, March 10 (AP)—The Western Conference today clamped down on its wide-open eligibility rules in effect since shortly after Pearl Harbor, banning civilians from more than four years competition and ostracizing professional athletes.

The conference faculty committee which had waived most of its eligibility sanctions to capitalize on the war declared there was need to return "as rapidly as possible towards normal rules and regulations."

Obviously striking at age and experience disparity among conference athletes resulting from unrestricted play by 4-Fs, the committee limited play by civilians, as such, to four seasons. (It also specified that athletes at the West Point military and Annapolis naval academies would be considered as civilians.)

F. E. Richart of Illinois, committee secretary, explained that civilians who became military trainees would not be affected once they entered the service, even if they continued college competition.

No civilian student who is a professional in any sport will be eligible for conference varsity competition under the revised rules.

The committee also required that civilian students who transfer to the Western conference must be banned from intercollegiate competition for one year, if they are ineligible at their former schools at the time of transfer.

The faculty group re-affirmed a December reinstatement of a rule banning competition in all-star contests by undergraduates.

The committee okayed a continuation of summer football practice to within one week of the regular pre-season drills and extended to summer-school enrollees permission for prospective students to join athletic squads before school terms actually begin.

Richart said the new rules will go into effect July 1.

Irish Lose Track Title To Drake U.

East Lansing, Mich., March 10 (AP)—Drake university dethroned Notre Dame's Central Collegiate Conference indoor track champions here tonight, winning the 18th annual meet with a score of 35 points.

Iowa Preflight, co-favored along with Notre Dame's defending champs, finished in a tie with Marquette for second with 32 points and Notre Dame was fourth with 25 3-5.

Billy Moore, Western Michigan college freshman from Logansport, Indiana, who won the National A. A. U. pole vault this month, cracked a CCC record by clearing 13 feet, 6 1/2 inches tonight. Charles Beaudry of Marquette equalled the 75-yard dash record of 7.5 seconds.

TITLE RETAINED BY LONE POINT

Michigan Indoor Track Team Takes Crown By-Eye-Lash

Chicago, March 10 (AP)—Although Illinois scored seven firsts and tied for an eighth, Michigan's distance-strong Wolverines won their third straight Big Ten indoor track title by an eye-lash margin of one point, 55 1-0 to 54 1-10 here tonight.

GERMANS TRY TO KNOCK OUT RIVER BRIDGE

Ruhr industrial basin. The Germans said American shock troops were storming across the Rhine in assault boats in a bid to broaden the bridgehead. Supreme headquarters did not confirm this, but a field dispatch said enemy resistance was stiffening and at least one armored division was deployed against the American advance.

It was said at headquarters that the original bridgehead was being enlarged steadily. The Germans had not yet tried to seize the initiative, more than three days after the American first crossed, and had not yet made a major counterattack. Associated Press Correspondent Hal Boyle wrote from east of the Rhine.

This was the Ardennes in reverse, with Field Marshal Karl Rundstedt forced to make heavy commitment of reserves against this threat to the heart of the Reich at an hour when four other Allied armies were lined up on the Rhine in position to cross.

Supplies Stream In
Still on the defensive, the Germans were building up artillery in a desperate effort to knock out the Ludendorff bridge at Remagen before the advancing American infantry and tanks drive their guns beyond reach of the crossing. Standing outside the bridgehead of 50 square miles, German medium artillery and tank guns blasted at the crossing and the vital Ludendorff bridge, across which U. S. First army guns, men and tanks continued to stream in endless procession.

To the south, the U. S. Third army hammered within two miles of the Rhine city of Coblenz and the U. S. First army was flushing five to six enemy divisions from the Eifel mountain trap.

While a security screen was thrown over progress of both armies in this area, it was disclosed that the Third took 6,500 prisoners yesterday and the First 3,000. Estimates of the number of Germans left in the hills ranged from 20,000 to 40,000.

Wesel Spans Destroyed
Farther south, the Germans said their soldier wounded, the aged, women and children were moving east across the Rhine in long lines in flight from the Saar industrial basin and the Palatinate, the only two provinces still in enemy possession west of the Rhine.

On the north end of the front, concentric blows by the Canadian First and U. S. Ninth army hammered down the Wesel Rhine pocket to five miles long and three miles wide, and the enemy fled across the Rhine by barge in a hail of bombs and shells after destroying the two bridges at Wesel.

This was the final act in the immense battle west of the Rhine which supreme headquarters estimated had cost the enemy 100,000 men in prisoners alone since Feb. 23. Twenty-two German divisions were destroyed or so badly mauled they must be refitted.

Allied armies now were lined up on 150 miles of the Rhine's west bank from the Dutch border to near Coblenz, and the Ruhr's great arsenal cities were learning to their cost what this meant as the Ninth army rocked them with giant 240-mm. howitzers.

Industrial Cities Pounded
Duisburg and Duesseldorf have been catching it for a week, and a front dispatch said that from now on other cities within range, especially Essen with its sprawling Krupp munition works, would know no peace.

Today, Berlin said, American troops in assault craft crossed the Rhine in the area of Honnef, five miles up the superhighway toward the Ruhr from Remagen. The German said fierce fighting was raging here, with Honnef changing hands repeatedly.

VIKINGS TRIP EAGLES, 35-29

Stephenson Drops Title Match In Hotly Fought Game

Stephenson, March 10—Norway captured the Class C district basketball title here tonight, defeating Stephenson, 35 to 29, in the championship game.

The Vikings presented a well balanced team with plenty of height that outscored the Eagles in the first three periods to win the title, despite a fourth period counterattack by the Stephenson team.

Norway led 10 to 6 in the first quarter and held their advantage at half time, 18 to 14. The Vikings put the game in the bag in the third period, when they outscored Stephenson 11 to 6. The Eagles outnattered Norway, 9 to 6, in the final period.

Scoring was well distributed for both teams, but Atkocunis of Stephenson took high point honors for the night with 13 points. Hallgren paced Norway with 11 points.

ing here, with Honnef changing hands repeatedly. A field dispatch said the fighting was of such urgency that American troops stepped from Ludendorff bridge into battle. Roads stretching far back of the front were loaded with trucks, troops, guns, tanks, supplies, all hurrying toward the bridge, which now is the key to the final battles of Germany.

U. S. Ninth army force fighters mounted constant patrol over the span, and the German air force not once during the day tried to repeat its futile and costly attempts of yesterday to knock out the bridge.

Moselle Uncrossed
Associated Press Correspondent Hal Boyle said from the front that the Germans counterattacked in force for the first time yesterday with several hundred infantrymen supported by tanks, but got nowhere.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third army was striking in three directions—eastward toward Coblenz, northward into the Eifel trap, and southward along the Moselle River.

The Fourth armored division seized Ruebenach, two miles west of Coblenz, which, while on the west bank of the Rhine is protected on the west by the broad Moselle River, as yet uncrossed in that area.

But the 75th infantry and the 10th armored divisions were driving the Germans back across the Moselle and it seemed clear that the river's north bank soon would be cleared along its 65-mile length between the fallen fortress of Trier and Coblenz.

The German bridgehead on the Rhine's west bank opposite Wesel was caving in tonight.

The Americans seized Ossenberg, stronghold on the south flank. The British swung in from the west and took Druppt, three miles northwest of Ossenberg.

Canadian units battling down from the north were two miles southeast of the Germans' knocked-out anchor of Xanten and were three miles or so from a junction with the British at Druppt.

Sports Ed Picks Brownies Again

St. Louis, March 10 (AP)—The only sports editor to pick the St. Louis Browns to win the American League pennant in last year's Associated Press poll, has done it again.

J. E. Wray in his Sunday column in the Post-Dispatch predicts the Browns will repeat their 1944 triumph, and that the St. Louis Cardinals will continue to dominate the National League.

(P. S. Wray also picked the 1-2-3 finish of last year's Kentucky derby.)

BASEBALL MEN VERY HOPEFUL

Subdued Optimism Indicated At Training Camps

BY JACK HAND
New York, March 10 (AP)—Baseball reflected a tone of subdued optimism today as it awaited player reaction to calls for spring training, the game's first real test of 1945 operation.

Although signed contracts continued to trickle into the offices of the 16 major league clubs, indicating about 50 per cent of the reserved players had agreed to terms, the number of men who actually would report was the doubtful factor.

National service legislation, still pending in congress, may have a most important effect on the manpower problem. Lacking a final decision on the proposed law, Presidents Ford Frick and Will Harridge of the National and American Leagues had delayed asking further conferences with War Mobilized James Byrnes.

The hope persisted in many quarters that a definite "green light" would be forthcoming before the season started April 16, although no club official would be quoted on the subject.

Many Stars Inducted
Washington and the Chicago Cubs have been in camp four days and 12 more teams are due to start work before next Saturday.

The St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds will not open until March 19. When the New York Giants and Yankees gather at their respective New Jersey camps in Lakewood and Atlantic City tomorrow, a good slant on the player situation should be available.

Manager Mel Ott expects 34 assorted Giants, Jersey City farmhands and coaches to be on hand for the first workout. Nineteen Giants were signed as were 18 of 32 men on the Yankee roster.

Included in the list of more than 45 players inducted into the army or navy since the close of the 1944 campaign were such stars as Stan Musial of the Cards, Dick Wakefield of the Tigers, Jim Tabor of the Red Sox, Dom Dilessandro and Les Fleming of the Cubs, Thurman Tucker of the White Sox and Tony Lupien of the Phils.

The Cards are in danger of losing their famous Sooper brother battery. Walker has been accepted and is awaiting call and Mort today received word his 4-F classification would be subjected to review by another physical examination.

Alger County Team Tops Sawmill Towners, 34 To 28

Trenary captured the Class E district basketball championship at Rapid River last night, defeating Nahma, 34 to 28, in a torrid, hard fought battle.

Nahma's bid for the title suffered severely when Ritter, veteran forward, went out on fouls in the second quarter. His teammate, Camps, Nahma star, took high point honors for the night with 14 points, but Richman of Trenary scored 13 for his team.

The teams were tied, 8-all, at the end of the first quarter but Trenary forged ahead during the second period, scoring nine points to four for Nahma and commanding a 17-12 lead at half time.

The two teams battled almost evenly during the entire second half, Trenary outgaining Nahma, 8 to 7, in the third period and the teams each scored nine points in the final stanza.

WILSON NAMED BIG TEN BOSS

Northwestern Director Chosen To Succeed Griffith

BY JERR YLISKA
Chicago, March 10 (AP)—The Western Conference today appointed Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, athletic director at Northwestern university, as athletic commissioner to succeed the late Maj. John L. Griffith, but forestalled efforts to hand the new Big Ten chief broadened authority.

The 48-year old Wilson presumably will receive $15,000 annually, $5,000 more than Griffith was paid, but salary terms were not disclosed by the faculty group, whose action capped a three-month search for a successor to the first and only previous conference commissioner.

The Big Ten athletic directors, who yesterday recommended Wilson as commissioner in their fourth candidate-hunting session, had proposed the $5,000 yearly salary hike in which the faculty committee must concur.

Crisler Rejected Job
Wilson released a statement in which he declared that his office was in no sense that of a "czar or dictator," and that he had no intention of making it that.

Wilson, whose appointment was for six years from May 1, asserted that salary arrangements were

Wilson's selection ended speculation ever since Griffith died suddenly December 7 that H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, University of Michigan athletic director, would be awarded the post. Crisler, it was learned, turned down the offer and backed Wilson for the job.

Ruddy-checked Wilson had been athletic director at Northwestern for 20 years. He came there from Drake university at Des Moines after three years as athletic director at that school. H graduated from the University of Illinois in 1920.

Although no successor to Wilson has been chosen at Northwestern, it is believed Football Coach Lynn Waldorf has the inside track.

Menominee Team Coming Today For Bowling Match

The Menominee Recreation bowling team, composed of selected bowlers from Menominee leagues, will roll a special match here today against a picked Escanaba team at the Arcade alleys at 2:30 o'clock.

The local team will comprise Swede Nelson, Bill Kraiger, Arvid Isackson, Mike O'Brien and Harry Gafner. The Menominee team will be anchored by a former local bowler, Augie Gafner, who posted a 699 series at Menominee last week.

The usual Sunday night mixed doubles tournament will be rolled tonight at eight o'clock.

"satisfactory." His statement explained that recent recommendations by the athletic directors that additional authority be given the commissioner's office will "go over to main meetings of the conference."

The athletic directors had sought at a previous meeting to give the commissioner authority to act in eligibility and legislative matters.

Wilson's selection ended speculation ever since Griffith died suddenly December 7 that H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, University of Michigan athletic director, would be awarded the post. Crisler, it was learned, turned down the offer and backed Wilson for the job.

Ruddy-checked Wilson had been athletic director at Northwestern for 20 years. He came there from Drake university at Des Moines after three years as athletic director at that school. H graduated from the University of Illinois in 1920.

Although no successor to Wilson has been chosen at Northwestern, it is believed Football Coach Lynn Waldorf has the inside track.

Fred Thatcher Is Member Of Track Team At Lawrence

Appleton, Wis.—Twenty-one of the twenty-six track prospects which reported this week for indoor workouts at Lawrence college are members of the naval training unit, athletic director A. C. Denney announced. Although no boy on the squad has had previous college experience, prospects for six events are shaping up, forming the nucleus of a team Denney hopes to take to a college meet at North Central, Naperville, Ill., on March 24.

Pole vaulters Harold Luedeman, Gillet, and Fred Thatcher, Escanaba, Mich., are making about 11 1/2 feet on indoor workouts, and a distance prospect is Waldemar Karkow, Chicago who ran for Kelynn Park in his high school days. Quarter miler Larry McDonald, Sheboygan, and dash men Dick Flom, Menasha, and Dave Harbert, Park Ridge, Ill., both civilians, are showing promise in their respective events. Grant Buelow, Baraboo, and Larry Clark, Waukesha, will probably do most of the hurdling, while Don White, Ionia, Mich., and John Gears, Lincoln Park, Mich., high jumpers who are doing better than 5 1/2 feet indoors complete the list of best material to date.

RAISE $10,500 FOR RED CROSS

First Report Shows 30%
Of Quota Reached
In Campaign

The first report of progress in the 1945 Red Cross War Fund drive in Delta county by Fred Earle, campaign treasurer, set the total raised so far at $10,500 or about 30 per cent of the county's $37,900 quota.

The funds so far received and deposited come largely from Delta county. Funds have been turned in by some of the Escanaba residential solicitors, from the business solicitation committee, from the Escanaba industrial committee, and from the Delta county industrial committee.

Reports from the Gladstone and township committees are all favorable. George Lindenthal, general drive chairman for the county, said yesterday.

It was reported that several of the townships are nearing the end of the solicitation and also their quotas.

Starting this week, contributions from the townships and from Gladstone are expected to start coming in, and the progress of the drive is expected to be materially increased. Satisfaction was expressed by the majority of the committee chairman at the excellent public response the solicitors are receiving in their plea for funds to "keep your Red Cross at his side."

Road Officials To Meet Monday; Strike Goes On

The Delta county road commission will meet at 10 a. m. Monday in regular bi-monthly business session with Chairman August Larson of Rock presiding. Marcus McNabb of Escanaba, member of the road commission, said last night the commission will seek to determine "what we can do to get our equipment working," but added that it is not planned to confer with union employees who have been on a walkout since Tuesday morning. Hilding Nordstrom of Gladstone is the third member of the commission.

Equipment of the road commission has been virtually tied up since the start of the strike, which developed over a dispute concerning recognition of the employees union. The road commission contends it has no legal authority to recognize the union or its representative, Arnold Alsten, business representative of the Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, Local 329. Although the strike is now in its sixth day, the dispute appeared no closer to settlement than before.

Alsten last night said that he had received a letter from the Michigan labor mediation board acknowledging receipt of his Wednesday telegram, in which he asked the board to intercede and attempt a settlement. Alsten said the board had not informed him whether it will intercede.

The Escanaba Trades and Labor

Council executive committee in meeting last night issued a statement in which it upheld the union in its action.

Alsten said last night that it was "not true" that two union employees had reported back to their jobs Thursday, as reported by J. T. Sharpsteen, county road superintendent. The commission had given the strikers until 4:30 Thursday to report for work or lose the opportunity for reinstatement.

Iron Mountain Man To Join OPA Here

Iron Mountain—Jack Schorman, lifelong resident of Iron Mountain and chief clerk of the Dickinson county war price and rationing board since February, 1942, will leave Monday for Escanaba to accept a position in the statistical department of the district OPA office. Negotiations for the transfer, in progress for some time past, were completed yesterday, when Schorman was notified by L. L. Farrell, district OPA director.

Walter Sauriol, of this city, who recently was given a medical discharge from the Navy, will take over Schorman's duties, pending the outcome of his application for permanent appointment to the job. Sauriol's application has been approved in Escanaba, and is now in the district office at Cleveland. He must also qualify by Civil Service examination.

Dogs Molesting Deer In County

In response to complaints that dogs are chasing and killing deer in certain sections of Delta county, Conservation Officer Allen Tweedy of Rapid River yesterday asked the cooperation of dog owners in keeping their dogs confined on a leash for a few weeks until the snow leaves the ground.

Most of the trouble is in the vicinity of Isabella and Ensign, and on the Stonington peninsula.

At this season of the year the deer, weak from wintering in the yards, are coming out to higher ground. The snow will not bear their weight, but the dogs are able to run on the crust and overtake the deer.

Officer Tweedy said that he had found the carcass of one deer that had been killed by dogs near Isabella, and saw another deer being chased by dogs near Ensign. Many dog owners do not know their dogs are chasing deer, Tweedy added. He asked their cooperation in keeping the dogs tied up.

It is unlawful for persons to permit dogs to molest game out of season. If dogs are caught chasing game they are classed as a public nuisance and may be killed by an officer without liability to himself. The officers, however, do not want to shoot dogs and rather request cooperation of the owners.
